

DL PEOPLE PROMOTIONS

Meet our new Directors...

Andrew Cialini – Director Building Surveying, Adelaide

Andrew graduated as a Civil Engineer from Adelaide University and practised as a structural engineer before diversifying into building surveying. His 20 years of varied experience in the construction and development industry provides a wealth of consultancy knowledge. He assists with the management of the growing Adelaide office. Services provided include Building Certification, Building Code Consultancy and Audits and Commonwealth Aged Care Certification Assessments.

Andrew Cialini
Director – Adelaide

Andy Lappas
Director – Sydney

Andy Lappas – Director Cost Management, Sydney

Andy has 19 years experience in numerous diverse roles in a wide variety of projects. He has been with Davis Langdon for over 10 years and has been involved in many significant projects such as The Royal Prince Alfred Hospital Redevelopment, Global Switch, The University of Sydney and Enhanced Land Forces Stage 1 for Department of Defence.

Barry Laycock – Director Cost Management, Melbourne

Barry joined Davis Langdon's London office as a graduate in 1996 before relocating to our Melbourne Cost Management team in 1998. His specialist sectors include sports facilities, commercial buildings and health. Having worked with international Architects such as Rafael Vinoly and Zaha Hadid, his interests are in seeing architectural excellence delivered within budget.

Barry is also involved with several of Davis Langdon's International Committees that promote the cross-fertilisation of ideas and the sharing of knowledge.

Barry Laycock
Director – Melbourne

Carl Krueger
Director – Brisbane

Carl Krueger – Director Project Management, Brisbane

Carl has been active in the construction industry and professions for the past 23 years. He commenced his career with Davis Langdon in 1998 having had previous experience with building contracting, quantity surveying and project management on numerous projects throughout Australia. He has expertise in providing project, cost, time and risk management.

“These appointments recognised the individual performance and abilities, and signified the continuing growth of Davis Langdon and its capacity to meet expectations.”

Mark Beattie
Managing Director

Charles Slack-Smith – Director Building Surveying, Sydney

Charles brings eight years of building surveying experience that covers both the government and the private sectors. He has a sound knowledge in building surveying and construction that covers the commercial, heritage re-developments, health, industrial, retail and defence sectors.

Charles has also completed his Master of Building Surveying as well as his Grade A1 Accredited Certification with the Building Professionals Board in NSW.

Neil Dickson – Director Cost Management, Perth

Neil has now been with the practice for over 12 years and brings international experience, having worked in the UK, Europe, South Korea and Libya. His experience is a blended mix of both private and public sectors delivering best practice and innovative approaches that ensure clients deliver value for money and excellence for their stakeholders.

Charles Slack-Smith
Director – Sydney

Neil Dickson
Director – Perth

Shaun Cugley
Director – Perth

Shaun Cugley – Director Cost Management, Perth

Shaun has significant industry experience that has resulted in the successful delivery of multiple major construction projects for public and private clients. He has worked with Davis Langdon for the past eight years, particularly within the residential, education, civil and infrastructure sectors. Shaun is an Associate member of the Australian Institute of Quantity Surveyors.