

Meet our recently promoted Director...

Maureen Jackson
Urban Planning (Melbourne)

Maureen has a wide range of statutory and strategic planning experience and has been involved in a number of large redevelopment projects on an international level.

Commenting on her appointment, Maureen said, "Planning sets the framework, guidelines and controls relating to our future environment. It is of vital importance to the property industry."

Davis Langdon recognises the value of having an in-house skill base that can seek to influence the development process and facilitate a successful outcome on behalf of our clients." She added, "My vision is to see urban planning become strategic client advice that enables us to deliver our complementary services that enable the realisation of the planning direction."

Our recently promoted Manager...

Aaron Still
Associate Director (Canberra)

Our Canberra practice was established by Michael Still (JM Still & Associates) in 2006. Michael grew a successful quantity surveying business focused on providing high quality service. As Michael steps towards retirement Aaron Still, Michael's son, will steer the practice in its next phase of development. Aaron has some 11 years cost management experience and has been groomed for this role for the last five years.
